

WASHBURN LAWYER

Washburn University School of Law Alumni Magazine | Winter 2015

VOLUME 52, ISSUE 2

Table of Contents

8

Features

4 Alumni Spotlight | Sally Pokorny

The Honorable Sally Pokorny, '78, can count the Kansas Women Attorney's Association prestigious Jennie Mitchell Kellogg Achievement Award among her many accomplishments.

7 Faculty Spotlight | Susannah Pollvogt

Susannah Pollvogt, associate professor of law and director of academic skills and bar passage, co-authored an amicus brief that was cited in the majority opinion of a June United States Supreme Court ruling.

8 Alumni Mentor | Patrick Augustine

The Honorable Patrick Augustine, BA '77 and JD '85, made it his mission to guide J. Bo Turney, '14, to, and through, Washburn Law.

10 Alumni Fellow | Jeff Hewett

Jeff Hewett, '95, visited in November as the 2015 School of Law Alumni Fellow and shared the wisdom he's picked up in his career, including why people matter every bit as much as one's legal services.

12 Campaign Update | The Ideal Place

Building on our storied past, the new law school facility reaches far beyond the building itself. It's about the people who go into it, and the accomplishments that will come out of it.

16 Lending Support | Jim Slattery

Jim Slattery, '74, is all about practice — going out and doing the things he wants to see happen. Washburn Law prepared him for that.

17 Lead By Example | Jack Focht

Jack Focht, '60, made a generous gift to the new law school building as a thank-you for his remarkable career.

18 Connections | Katie McClure

For Katie McClure, '02, her connections to Washburn Law have been instrumental in her career. She believes the future of Washburn Law is bright and wants to help build her alma mater's new home.

19 Supporting Students | Martin Pringle

Martin Pringle invests in both students and oil and gas law — a shared passion between the firm and Washburn Law.

20 Sharing Experience | Kate Duncan Butler

Kate Duncan Butler, '13, shares her experience with two current students to help steer them through school and into the job market.

22 Q & A | Gabrielle Ilaria

Gabrielle Ilaria, '15, kicked off her career at Polsinelli's Kansas City office after summer internships in her 1L and 2L years.

24 Student Spotlight | Alosha Moore

Alosha Moore, BA '13 and JD candidate '17, navigates the halls of Washburn Law with his service dog, Frosty.

22

In Every Issue

2 Dean's Letter

3 Alumni Association

President's Letter

26 Alumni Events

28 News Briefs

30 Class Actions

32 In Memoriam